

Merlin Miller: America and the Great Racial Divide

The following essay was written by filmmaker Merlin Miller, the American Third Position Party's 2012 presidential nominee.

America's demographics are being radically altered – setting the stage for serious civil strife with potential for state succession and national dissolution into small, ethnically distinct nation-states. This is not happening by accident, but by design. It is only one part of a comprehensive plan to destroy traditional nations and create an unnatural, enslaved world, where citizens answer to an all-powerful New World Order. The American "empire" is being sacrificed for this end.

However, the American republic is not quite dead and those of us who took an oath to protect and defend her, must rise to the occasion. American nationalists must stand against growing tyrannies and remove the Globalist/Zionist agents of our destruction. To do so, we must understand their "divide and conquer" tactics. Divisiveness is not just racial, but also religious (Christians pitted against Muslims) and cultural (attacks on traditional family) and is socially engineered through media influence and government control.

Largely unknown to the American public, our nation has come under the oppressive control of international bankers. Through financial manipulations and ruthless plotting, they control the mainstream media and political arena – and hence, our lives. Internationally, they have involved us in wars and occupations – which are destroying the blood of our youth, our reputation and our financial solvency. Domestically, they are engineering America's collapse by dislocating American jobs, stealing citizen homes and possessions, and suppressing our inalienable rights and freedoms. Exploiting racial differences is only one aspect of creating confusion and discord, so that we are not united in fighting their comprehensive, evil schemes.

Throughout most of America's incredible history, we were 90% European derived. We are now approximately 65% White, 14% Black, 15% Hispanic, and a small percent Asian. If current trends continue, Whites are predicted to become a minority within 30 years. Those who want to preserve America's traditional identity, culture, values and economic health are unfairly marginalized when they express concern. Distorted ad hominem attacks by the ADL and SPLC come to mind.

For 2012, I was asked to be the Presidential candidate for a new political party, the American Freedom Party (formerly the American Third Position "A3P"), on the basis that it needed a moderating image to grow and protect America's traditional nationalist interests, and effectively combat unfair marginalization. I had produced "Jericho", a mystery-western, with a theme opposed to any form of discrimination. While proud of my race, religion and heritage, I've always believed that others should be treated with respect and fairness, regardless of differences.

As an American nationalist/patriot, I accepted their nomination on the basis that they represent a broad nationalist platform and maintain the "moral high-ground". To me, this means respecting our Constitution and the rights of all legitimate Americans. "Equal rights for all citizens, special privileges for none." Stopping the immigration invasion and ending discriminatory and divisive "affirmative action" programs should be part of a nationalist program, as they protect our country's interests and insure fair treatment of our citizens. We should all be judged on our own merits, as individuals, and the sovereignty of states and other nations should be respected.

In my opinion, due to the controls of a few individuals (and the actions of "agent provocateurs"), the American Freedom Party is increasingly, and divisively, representing itself as a one issue party ("protector of white racial interests), rather than as an inclusive American nationalist party, concerned with a host of issues, critical to the wellbeing of the American people. Unfortunately, efforts to moderate their "one issue focus", and grow the Party with a viable and comprehensive platform, have been increasingly undermined. Members will now seek other political remedies.

What is needed is a populist political movement or party which will represent American nationalist interests. So many critical issues; ending the wars/occupations, restoring our economy, and protecting individual liberties should be the focus of true nationalists – not falling victim to the deceptions and divisions created by these Globalists/Zionists and their agents. The American Freedom Party had some good prospects, as does the Constitution Party, the Libertarian Party, the Green Party and others. However, isolated none can hope to successfully challenge the Republicans and Democrats. United, as a "nationalist/populist/patriot" coalition, they could! This is certainly worth exploring, especially by those capable of bringing together divergent interests, to support the common good (Ron Paul, Judge Napolitano, et al?).

There are also alternatives to forming a coalition or creating a new party, which might circumvent the great infrastructure, expense, and time required. An independent candidate movement (exclusive of parties), uniquely supported by issue oriented Patriot/Nationalist PACs, might be a possibility. The Campaign for Liberty could be a catalyst. The careful selection of independent candidates for key races could be a crucial determinant in state and federal elections. Fees and petition requirements are much less for individuals, rather than Party registration/slates which the Republicans and Democrats have self-servingly imposed on the system. Resources could more wisely and efficiently target specific candidate and issue promotion, creating a potential for leveraging outcomes in critical states.

America can survive and again lead the world by positive example, if we fight for "truth, justice, liberty and peace", as our founding fathers did. It is time to unite and "Take Back America".
